Dear Reader,

Our family business Birkenstock® can look back on a long history steeped in tradition. For over 235 years our policy has been to offer you high-quality products that promote and maintain the natural functions of the foot. With the invention of the Blue Footbed and the deep cork footbed we revolutionised the shoe sector and thus laid the foundation stone for today's comfort shoe industry. Today too we are constantly setting new standards with innovative ideas and concepts.

Thus for example with environmentally friendly manufacturing as well as the use of sustainable and long-lasting materials we are actively contributing to preserving the environment for future generations. In this the Germany manufacturing location is playing a very important part for us. This is how we guarantee the same high quality “made in Germany” for each of our products.

Each one of our products is in addition characterised by optimum fit and high comfort in wear. For this reason we offer you each of our models in two footbed widths: normal width for normal feet, narrow width for especially narrow feet. You will find further information about the function and health aspect of our products from page 86.

If you have not yet personally experienced Birkenstock® comfort we recommend that you get to know our products at close quarters at your specialist shoe shop. We would be happy to give you the right address. You can also find further information on the internet at: www.birkenstock.com.

WHITE.

Eternal classic with a wide range of uses.

THE ORIGINAL

We have adjusted the cut of the heel strap to the shape of the foot so that we guarantee you optimum support when walking, running or standing.

The upper material is cut in an intricate procedure by special cutting machines. This ensures a delicate cut-out that bestows a feminine accent on the model.

Love of detail: embossed metal rivets.

COLOURS

SEASONAL BIRKENSTOCK® COLLECTION

In addition to our timelessly modern models in natural colours we also offer you selected classics in seasonal colours. With fresh colours such as lavender, orange, mint and lemon you plunge into the fascinating colour worlds of flower meadows, the oceans and the sun. These tones allow your feet to breathe a sigh of relief and attract you to sandals.

For the upper material we use the materials natural leather, Birko-Flor® Patent and Birko-Flor® Graceful. Our new natural leather has been given an intricate antique finish and this gives it a lightly shiny and refined surface. Birko-Flor® Patent and Birko-Flor® Graceful are skin-friendly, tear-resistant and easy-care materials to which we have given a soft non-woven lining. In the Patent version the upper layer is glossy and shiny, in the Graceful version mat and lustrous.

Please note that some models in this chapter are seasonal and only available for a specific period.

You will find a complete overview from page 106.

FLOWER.

Fresh and powerful colours that arouse a desire for sandals.

THE BLUE FOOTBED

Foot comfort in all shoes

With the Blue Footbed you can also enjoy the unique Birkenstock® comfort in many different shoes. As many people with the same shoe size often have toes of different lengths the Blue Footbed has a  $\frac{3}{4}$  length. In this way optimum fit is ensured without the length of the forefoot and the shape of the point of the shoe having to be taken into account. The shoe size can thus deviate from the size of the footbed. Careful fitting is therefore very important.

Optimum weight distribution

On a hard, flat base the foot only hits the ground on heel and ball. A high force on a small area. With the Blue Footbed the foot has a larger tread area. The force is evenly distributed and therefore lower.

1 The natural footprint in soft ground.

The whole surface of the foot is down. The arching in the mid foot is supported.

2 Foot on hard, flat base.

The foot is only down at the back and front. The mid foot arching is not supported – it sinks in.

3 Foot with Blue Footbed.

The backward dropping foot is guided back into the natural arching. A large surface of the foot is down. The forefoot is relieved.

THE BLUE FOOTBED

The construction

- 1 The hollow for the heel envelops the foot in its natural shape, supports the heel and provides good shock absorption.
- 2 Very thin and flexible edges create a high level of comfort and mould to fit any shoe shape.
- 3 The arching under the balls, the longitudinal arch support as well as the side supports relieve the foot and guide it back into its natural shape.
- 4 Precision-moulded cups support the longitudinal arch and guide the whole foot.

TOE-FREE INSOLES

The footbed makes all the difference: Birkenstock® insoles are characterized by their form, which is designed according to the anatomy of the foot. They support the foot and ensure comfort with every step. A toe-free style ensures that the insert will fit into any shoe.

- 1 The toe grips awaken natural gripping movement of the toes and thereby enhance circulation throughout the foot.
- 2 The balls of the feet are cushioned in a soft bed.
- 3 The toes are unobstructed and can grip freely. The tip of the shoe remains open so toes are not pinched.
- 4 The insole is anatomically correct, moulded all the way to the heel, thus having a comforting effect on the forefoot and arch.
- 5 The heel is cushioned in a heel cup. The cup is fairly flat, preventing the foot from slipping out of the shoe.

EVEN WEIGHT DISTRIBUTION

No other part of the body is subject to so much strain during the course of a lifetime as our feet. They maintain the body's balance, absorb impacts and bear the entire weight of the body. Therefore it is essential to support the feet as well as possible – with Birkenstock®. Because the Birkenstock® footbed – available in two widths – has been designed to mirror the shape of a healthy foot. It supports you right where you need a firm hold but still gives you enough room to move freely. This enables you to comfortably walk or stand on Birkenstock® products for hours.

Walking in high heels creates an unnatural posture: the pelvis shifts forward and the spine is curved more than usual. This can cause serious back pains and intervertebral damage.

Without a heel, the weight of the body is carried by the strong heel bone. With a heel, the weight of the body is shifted forward into an unnatural position. The bones of the midfoot are pushed forward and we end up walking on unprotected bone, which is very painful.

SPACE FOR YOUR FEET TO MOVE FREELY

Our long experience in making shoes has shown us that many shoes are far too tight for the natural shape of the foot. They inhibit the natural movement when walking, restrict the muscles of the feet and legs, push the toes together and place uneven pressure on the foot. The possible consequences are pain, malformation of the feet and weakening of the muscles, tendons and ligaments. The Birkenstock® footbed is designed according to the natural form of a healthy foot. It distributes the weight of the body evenly across the foot and gives feet the freedom of movement that they naturally need.

The image clearly shows how wearing shoes that are too narrow forces the foot into a position that can lead to the formation of bunions and cause malformation in the big toe.
.....

The Birkenstock® footbed gives the foot the room it naturally needs.

THE RIGHT WIDTH FOR EVERYONE

Everyone's feet are different.

That is why we offer our deep footbed in two different widths: a normal width for normal feet and a narrow width for especially slender feet. In order to create a perfect fit, the upper sections are aligned with the width of the respective deep footbed. Combined with the adjustability provided by the straps, this creates a "tailored shoe" that fits your foot perfectly.

Note

When buying your preferred Birkenstock® style, make sure that there are a few mm space in the heel and in front of the toes. Your toes need this space when walking, in order to move freely with each step.

The toes and heel need a few mm of space.
The foot needs this space when walking.

THONG PROVIDES A PERFECT FIT

The Birkenstock® thong styles guarantee a perfect fit. This style of sandal has been around for thousands of years, since the function of the style proved itself to be a perfect solution time and again. The fine construction of the thong, which was specifically developed for the deep footbed, corresponds perfectly to the anatomy of the foot. You will notice the exceptional comfort right away. The Birkenstock® thong is naturally surrounded by the toes and guides the toes back to their natural position which are often painfully pushed together by fancy dress shoes.

For this reason, we recommend selecting the normal width in these styles. The footbed of the narrow width is only suitable for very slender feet.

GO DOWN A NEW PATH.

Fitness sandal "Madrid".

THE FITNESS SANDAL "MADRID"

Treat your feet to something good whenever you can.

Compared to other sandals, walking in our fitness sandals is surprisingly different, since you can instantly feel the increased activity in your muscles. The interaction between the straps and the footbed triggers a gripping reflex in the foot with every step. When walking, the continuous switch between tensing your muscles and relaxing will exercise your feet and legs as well as promote circulation. Moreover, the tissue is tightened and the soles of the feet are strengthened in their role as "shock absorbers".

All of these aspects work together to ensure a natural, correct positioning of the foot, improved posture in the entire body and greater overall well-being.

If you can't live without high heels, make sure you counteract their effects on a regular basis – with Birkenstock®.

Why choose the "Madrid" fitness sandal?

The flexible cork and latex footbed of the fitness sandal supports the foot's natural rolling movement. This exercises and strengthens the muscles in the foot and calf – step by step.

THE BIRKENSTOCK® QUALITY

Longevity through quality

We only use select, high-quality calf leather that is 2.8 to 3 mm thick. This level of quality is hard to get and is only used by a few shoe manufacturers in the world. Our leathers can be recognized by the typical grain and colours that are visible on the surface.

High-quality calf leather that is 2.8 to 3 mm thick.

We do not try to hide these features; rather we maintain the individual characters of the natural surfaces. We deeply dye and permeate the leather, instead of covering it up. This allows it to keep all of its valuable, natural properties, such as breathability, longevity and durability.

With continued use, the changes in the surface, such as a fine patina, creases and wrinkles become visible. This means, that the colour nuances of the leather depend on the type of stress it is exposed to. These characteristics are not quality errors, rather a sign of a true natural product, giving each Birkenstock® item an unmistakable, natural character.

Precision from the buckle...

Each buckle is corrosion protected and the enamel is baked numerous times. This method ensures that they can withstand significant stress over the years. To enhance the attachment of the buckle to the upper material, we use four clamps for large buckles. The buckles are attached to the upper material with great care: The clamps are pretzel-shaped and curved inward, so they cannot be felt.

Clamped four times – to withstand extreme wear and tear.

...to the sole

We also pay close attention to our outsoles. They are made of ethylene vinyl acetate (EVA) and are characterized by their excellent wear resistance, while providing superior shock absorption. This prevents extreme wear and protects against postural deformities.

THE ORIGINAL

THINKING ABOUT THE FUTURE

We care about the environment

Actively protecting the environment and sparing use of nature has always been an important concern for Birkenstock®. With environmentally friendly manufacturing, ongoing optimisation of technology and a well-thought-out recycling system the old-established company is actively contributing to preserving the environment for future generations.

- 🌿 We only use natural and sustainable materials such as cork, latex and jute for the Birkenstock® footbed.
- 🌿 Any EVA punching scraps left after producing soles are shredded and used for playgrounds or sports grounds or for noise barriers on the motorway.
- 🌿 Birkenstock® was one of the first manufacturers in the world to use almost exclusively water soluble and solvent-free adhesives in its manufacturing. The proportion of these environmentally friendly components has been continuously increased in the last few years and today accounts for 95% of the adhesives used.
- 🌿 All components of the Birkenstock® styles, from the buckle to the sole, can be individually replaced or repaired. This type of "intelligent recycling" not only saves customers money by not having to buy a new pair but also helps the environment and prevents shoes from ending up in landfills.
- 🌿 Innovative techniques, permanent operational enhancements and continuous process optimization have enabled Birkenstock® to reduce energy consumption by more than 90 percent in recent years.
- 🌿 The family company uses remaining leather to create accessories such as key fobs.
- 🌿 By keeping the production site in Germany, Birkenstock® is able to ensure that all of the valid environmental guidelines, which are some of the strictest in the world, are met.

THE BIRKENSTOCK® MATERIALS

Our leathers are especially thick – around 3 mm – yet still soft. They are unsplit so they retain all of their valuable natural properties. We use deeply dyed, permeated leather in place of artificial surface dyes – which keeps the leather porous and breathable. Although all of the leather we use is natural, this catalogue differentiates between the different optical and surface features using the following categories.

Natural Leather

Natural leather can be identified by its typical varying grain and colour scheme that can be seen on the surface. These differences are not covered, which maintains the characteristic of a naturally matte surface.

Smooth Leather

Our smooth leather feels very fine and even and has a slightly shiny surface. Due to its high degree of elasticity, tensile strength and resistance to abrasion, it is resistant to external influences, thus guaranteeing a long life. It is also easy to take care of and has positive qualities.

Suede Leather

The suede used by Birkenstock® is particularly high-quality and extra strong. Our suede sandals and clogs are therefore characterised by their durability but are at the same time soft and particularly pleasant to wear.

Nubuck Leather

For nubuck leather the natural surface of the leather is buffed up, giving it a fine, velvet finish.

THE BIRKENSTOCK® MATERIALS

Birko-Flor®

Birko-Flor® is a comfort friendly tear-resistant and low maintenance material. The upper layer of the material has a leather-like structure – the soft fleece is built into the lower layer.

Birko-Flor® Nubuck

A special finishing process gives this material a surface that not only looks like nubuck but feels like it as well.

Wool

Our high-quality wool felt is a 100 percent natural product and is made from sheep wool. This makes it extremely robust and breath-able.

Felt

The felt used by us is a synthetic textile that is tear-resistant, soft to the touch and breathable.

Birko-Felt

Birko-felt is made of a wool pulp mixture and synthetic fibre felt. This mixture is practically untearable, is still breathable and skin-friendly.

QUALITY "MADE IN GERMANY"

Birkenstock® does not merely stand for premium products that are manufactured with attention to detail and a lot of craftsmanship. There are also other positive aspects of the company that account for the brand's quality. For example, the environmentally-friendly products, continuously enhanced technology and a sophisticated recycling system all actively work together to maintain the environment for future generations. The strong commitment and the high level of motivation of Birkenstock® employees also contributes to the satisfaction of our customers around the world.

With more than eight locations in Germany, Birkenstock® is not only able to guarantee a quality product that is "Made in Germany" but also protects jobs.

Headquarters in Bad Honnef

The Birkenstock® success story started in the 60s with the invention of the deep footbed sandal. The sales, distribution, production and local store were all located in Bad Honnef at that time. In the 1970s, employees were still bringing the ordered goods to the post office themselves in a VW bus. With the growing success, the location in Bad Honnef soon became too small and the company invested in a new location in Germany.

1774 Johann Adam Birkenstock is entered in the church archives in the city of Langen-Bergheim in Hesse as a "shoe maker and subject".

1869 Master shoemaker Konrad Birkenstock, who managed two speciality shoe stores in Frankfurt began manufacturing flexible footbed insoles.

1899 For the next 15 years, Konrad Birkenstock held lectures in front of leading masters and guilds to explain his idea of a mass shoe made completely of plastic and to sign license agreements for the manufacturing of his shoe with a footbed. To this end, he travelled through Germany and Austria.

1925 A large factory with extensive grounds was built and expanded in Friedberg in Hesse. The growing customer base requires a considerable daily production that is realized by having both a day shift and a night shift. The "Blue Footbed" is added to the production program.

1932 Carl Birkenstock starts the Birkenstock® training courses, which went on to become famous. In the following years he trained more than 5,000 specialists during his one-week foot service courses. Leading physicians support the courses and the "Carl Birkenstock System".

1935 First edition of Carl Birkenstock's book "Mit dem Arzt gegen Fußkrankheiten und Irrlehren" ("A doctor's guide to footcare and heresy") was published. It is 83 pages long and has 87 illustrations. 15,000 copies were printed and for sale on the market.

1947 The textbook "Fussorthopädie – System Carl Birkenstock" ("Podiatry – Carl Birkenstock's System") was published, 14,000 copies were printed. Encompassing 112 pages, with 55 illustrations, Carl Birkenstock shared his guide to "Naturgewollten Gehen" [The natural way to walk], the so-called step-sensory system – and healthy footwear. It became the best-selling textbook on podiatry of its day.

THE HISTORY OF BIRKENSTOCK®

1963 Karl Birkenstock introduced "Madrid" to the market, the first fitness sandal with a flexible, deep footbed, thereby laying the cornerstone for today's comfort shoe market.

1972 The "Buch der Fußgesundheit" (the "Book of foot care") was published by Karl Birkenstock and 30,000 copies were printed.

1973 Development of an electromechanical moulding machine that can create all sizes and with the right proportions in a stepless process all based on a single style. Moreover, the same method can be used to model any width, individual heels and the frontal area of the foot. This innovation makes Birkenstock® the global leader.

1983 The "Birkenstock-Fußfibel" ("Birkenstock foot primer") Karl Birkenstock is published and 360,000 copies are printed.

1988 Environmentally-friendly adhesives were used in the production process for the first time. With this step, Birkenstock® set an example for the world – and the company became a global role model.

1990 Expansion and modernization of the bed production under consideration of environmental protection aspects: energy consumption was reduced by more than 90 per cent

1991 A variety of licensed trademarks were founded throughout the following years in order to offer complementary as well as additional product groups.

2007 The owners of Birkenstock Orthopädie GmbH & Co. KG took over their long-term distribution partner Birkenstock Distribution USA, Inc. (BDUSA).

2009 A new and bigger footbed production facility was opened in Görlitz in the spring of 2009.

THE RIGHT SHOE FOR EVERY FOOT – THE CUSTOM-MADE BIRKENSTOCK®

Taking the proper care of your feet has been our field of expertise for generations. Making a shoe for every foot means much more than simply finding the right length and width. We are one of the few manufacturers who, for an additional charge, offers custom-made products. Because we want to make your ideas a reality – to the best of our ability.

Of course, we are certainly willing to assist you if you need two different shoe sizes or widths, if an individual strap needs to be lengthened or heels made higher.

Feel free to contact us and get the information you need – free of charge. We are available to assist you at: +49 (0)265-942-100.

We can also be reached by e-mail at: service@birkenstock.de.

FOOT COMFORT FOR PROFESSIONALS – THE PROFESSIONAL CATALOGUE

Have you missed our well-proven soft footbed models and the items with super-grip sole in our main 2012 catalogue?

Then you will be pleased with the “Foot Comfort for Professionals” catalogue now available. In this catalogue we introduce you to Birkenstock® items that for example can be worn in jobs where you have to walk or stand all day.

You can simply order the catalogue by phone on 02645-942-100 or by email on info@birkenstock.de

The soft footbed

In addition to the classic footbed some of our models are fitted with a foam insert. This is incorporated between the flexible cork-latex mixture reinforced with hard-wearing natural jute and the suede sole. It always returns to its original soft form and thus ensures long-lasting cushioning.

The super-grip sole

Our super-grip sole consists of two components: an extremely shock-absorbing midsole made of EVA and a slip resistant rubber outsole that is in addition oil- and grease resistant. This makes it suitable for many different professions and together with the well-proven Birkenstock® comfort ensures a secure tread.

IMPROVE YOUR WELL-BEING WITH BIRKENSTOCK®

Our feet are the basis for a healthy posture. However if our foot system is damaged by lack of movement, incorrect footwear or incorrect weightbearing a chain reaction arises: the whole body axes get out of balance – from the foot, knee and hip joints to the lumbar and cervical spine. Possible consequences may be back, knee and hip disorders as well as shoulder pain and headache.

And yet it is very easy to do something good for our feet. As with the flexible Birkenstock® footbed our feet are trained with every step: the toe grip stimulates a grasp reflex in which the toe and calf muscles are tensed. Then the muscles relax again. Thus when walking feet and legs are trained by the continual switch from muscle tensing and relaxing and blood flow is promoted. In addition the connective tissue is firmed and the sole of the foot reinforced as a “shock absorber”. All this ensures a natural, correct state of the foot, improves the stance of the whole body and thus in the end leads to an improved feeling of well-being.

BIRKENSTOCK® – THE ORIGINAL

At the start of the 60s with the Madrid exercise sandal Birkenstock® manufactured the first flexible deep footbed sandal in the world. With this innovative development the old-established company has revolutionised the shoe sector and thus laid the foundation stone for today’s comfort shoe industry. The Birkenstock® lettering is embossed with precision on the inside of each model – a label for the genuine article.
